

Manage Employee Communities with Chronus

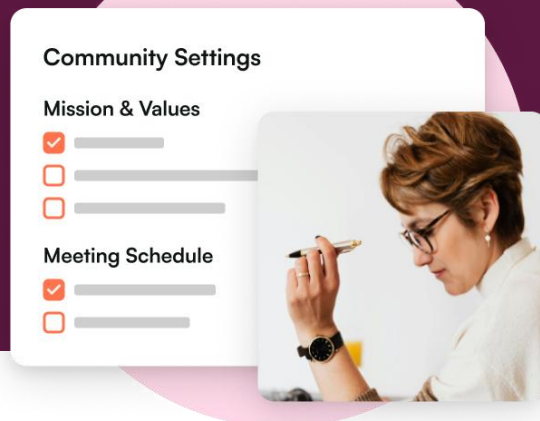

Connection shouldn't be hard. That's why we created the first and only employee community software with guidance built in to enable organizations to develop impactful communities that engage your people and amplify belonging, making you an employer of choice.

How Software Unlocks Your True People Potential

Stop struggling to manage your employee communities across tools and systems.

Let us help you simplify the process on one platform, allowing you to focus on improving group engagement, expanding offerings and measuring results that proves to stakeholders and your organization the impact communities really drive.

With Chronus employee community software, reduce admin time while centralizing the management and reporting of your programs. This way, you can spend your time growing greater connection and engagement.

Centralize

Smoothly launch communities from one place, providing a branded sign-up hub and standardized experience for your org

Manage

Keep track of community progress, and delegate management by roles to your community leads with the flip of a switch

Engage

Communicate with participants, set up events with polling and drive discussions within connection communities

Measure

Know the impact of your community efforts, diagnose gaps, highlight opportunities and increase outcomes with reporting and surveys

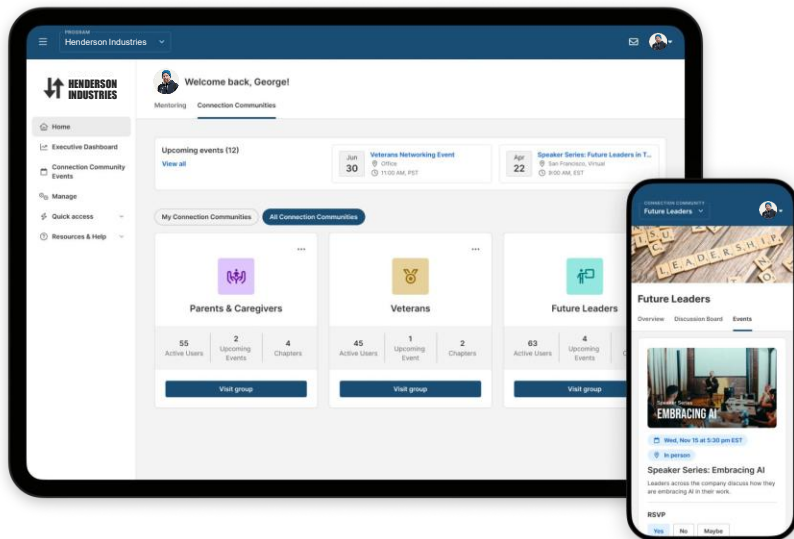

Scale

Grow communities to impact more people, in more locations

We Bring Communities to Your Fingertips

Unlike other employee community software, Chronus is prepared to help you avoid engagement challenges with our customizable solution. By providing a centralized platform, Chronus streamlines communication, collaboration, and coordination within communities, whether that be employee resource groups, affinity groups, people networks or communities of practice. Software is a vital component in building and sustaining communities that contribute to a more collaborative and inclusive workplace culture.

Measuring Results

With Chronus dashboards and reporting features, you'll be able to assess the impact of your affinity groups, measure engagement, and make data-driven decisions for continuous improvement. Track global metrics, as well as individual group performance, that showcase your program's impact to stakeholders.

Streamlined Management

Scale employee engagement from one place, managing new and existing employee communities

Robust Reporting

Utilize granular data and reports to track members, events and performance across communities

Events & Scheduling

Efficiently schedule events, meetups and track attendance across your communities

Seamless Communications

Keep participants in the know with frictionless communication through discussions and surveys

Career/Leadership Development

Connect untapped talent with mentors and develop community leaders with specialized training