

Adobe Acrobat for Government

Boost productivity across your agency with efficient digital document solutions.

Managing agency operations involves countless tasks and processes. While digital adoption is well underway in government, agencies need to accelerate the transition to move beyond costly paper-based process. Adobe delivers best-in-class document productivity tools to help agencies go fully digital, from simplifying contract management to digitizing citizen forms and research collaboration — enhancing productivity, mitigating security risks, and ensuring compliance with accessibility standards.

AI-driven document productivity.

With 80% of global workers facing information overload and spending hours searching and recreating content, faster access to information and better document productivity are essential. Generative AI functionality in Acrobat Premium for Enterprise, boosts efficiency, helping government professionals do more with fewer resources.

"We're saving at least 40 hours of work per grant with Acrobat AI Assistant, creating huge efficiencies and opportunities that we can use to apply for even more grants, ultimately benefitting citizens and better services with community."
